2. Governing law and jurisdiction

Information appearing on this website is provided in accordance with and subject to the laws of the Republic of Ireland. The laws of the Republic of Ireland govern the conduct and operation of this website and any products or services provided availed of via this website. The courts of the Republic of Ireland have exclusive jurisdiction over all claims or disputes arising in relation to, out of, or in connection with these Terms of Use, the information contained on this website, and any use made of that information. Any such claims or disputes shall be resolved in accordance with the laws of the Republic of Ireland.

3. Disclaimer as to accuracy of information

Care has been taken in the preparation of the information contained on this website, which is provided on an "as is" basis. However, we do not make any representations or warranties as to the accuracy, completeness, timeliness, merchantability, or fitness for a particular purpose of the information contained on this website. Any information, whether or not it is classified as "real time", may have stopped being current by the time it reaches you. Any opinions or comments expressed on this website reflect our judgement at the date of issue and are subject to change without notice.

Where we provide a quote or an estimate of the cost of repayments for a loan or credit facility, this does not and is not intended to constitute an offer to buy or sell or a representation that a purchase or sale can be affected at that price.

4. Need for professional advice

The information on this website is for general information purposes only. It does not constitute advice. Therefore, you should not rely on any information contained on the website in relation to a specific issue or decision without taking advice from an appropriately qualified professional adviser. In particular, we recommend that you obtain independent legal advice before signing any agreement relating to your credit facility.

5. Prohibited use of the website

The information on this website is not provided and should not be used in any state or jurisdiction where accessing or use of such information is prohibited, whether in the format in which it is presented in this website or any other format. In addition, you agree not to use the website or cause the website to be used:

- in a way that could damage the availability, performance or integrity of the website;
- for any commercial purpose, including (but not limited to) screen-scraping or direct marketing activities. Nor will you use the website to participate in or cause others to participate in sending unsolicited messages, advertising or promotional material;
- to harvest information about individuals, including email addresses;
- to upload or transmit any material which contains viruses or any other harmful or malicious programs;
- contrary to the terms and conditions of any internet service provider whose services you may use.

If you have any doubt about the legality of your using this website, you should not continue any further and immediately exit the website.

Bank of Ireland Group accepts no liability arising from the use or viewing of the website which is in contravention of the laws of the jurisdiction in which you are resident, domiciled or located. Only residents of the Republic of Ireland or persons acting on behalf of entities registered in the Republic of Ireland are eligible to access and use this website. You must be over 18 years old to access and use the website to interact with Bank of Ireland in relation to any application for credit.

6. Ineligibility to use

Access to this website may not be available for all customers. You must meet our stated eligibility criteria to use this website.

7. General provisions

You acknowledge that you are solely responsible for the use to which you put the website along with any third party content made available on the website. You also acknowledge that you are solely responsible for all the results and information you obtain from either, and that all liability is excluded to the fullest extent permitted by law.

Nothing in these Terms of Use shall exclude, limit or restrict any member of the Bank of Ireland Group's duties or liabilities to you under legislation, which regulates the provision of credit or any conduct of business rules which the Bank of Ireland Group is required to comply with.

8. Online access and documentation

- The services available using the website, include, but are not limited to, the following:
 - Applying for certain credit facilities;
 - Viewing documentation and uploading documentation relating to a credit facility;
 - Electronically signing agreements and other documentation relating to a credit facility.
- We may remove your access to the website where you do not log in or use the website for over a certain time period. We may also remove your access to the website if we have concerns regarding fraud, or if you have breached these Terms of Use, or your account terms and conditions. In such cases, you will no longer be able to view the documentation online using the website. You should therefore download and print a copy of all documents we provide you via the website for your records.

Your responsibilities in relation to the website:

- You agree to use the website for your business use only.
- You agree that any information uploaded to the website or otherwise provided by you using the website is accurate and complete.
- You will not upload any false, indecent, inappropriate/illegal content, or conduct any inappropriate/illegal activities using the website.
- We may ask you to answer security questions, use a password or other security credential, or a combination of security credentials, before allowing you to:
 - use the website,
 - sign agreements using the website; or
 - give us instructions using the website.
- You must never share your password or security credentials with anyone. If you know or suspect your security credentials are known by someone who should not know them, you must tell us immediately.
- You must maintain suitable equipment to enable you to use the website. For example, a computer with a suitable browser and up-to-date security software. Further details are available in the accessibility section of www.bankofireland.com.
- We put reasonable IT security measures in place. However, we cannot guarantee the privacy or security of any information that concerns you and passes over the internet. This is because of the nature of the internet. If you use the website, you acknowledge and accept these risks.

9. Consent

- By registering for the website you agree that:
- documentation provided using the website (including, but not limited to, credit application forms and credit agreements) will be signed and accepted electronically.
- you and/or any business or entity you are acting on behalf of will not seek to avoid your or their responsibilities to the Bank under any credit facility or loan agreement based on the fact that you and/or the business or entity you represent signed a document or amendment agreement using an electronic signature as opposed to a hand-written signature on paper;

The acceptance of electronic documents in the way specified above is governed by the Electronic Commerce Act 2000 (the “Act”) and EU Regulation No 910/2014 on electronic identification and trust services for electronic transactions in the internal market (the “EIDAS Regulation”).

10. Variation of content/amendments

The contents of this website, including these Terms of Use, are subject to change and to being updated without notice from time to time.

We reserve the right in our absolute discretion at any time and without notice to remove, amend, alter or vary any of the content which appears on any page of this website. This includes the Terms of Use. Any changes to these Terms of Use will be posted on this website. By continuing to use this website following any such change, you agree to be bound by the revised Terms of Use.

11. Entire agreement

These Terms of Use, the Bank of Ireland Group Data Privacy Notice, the Bank of Ireland Terms of Business, and any of the additional terms referred on the pages of the website, constitute the entire agreement between the Bank of Ireland Group and you with respect to your access to and use of the website and any third party site accessed through the website. If any provision of these terms shall be unlawful, void, or for any reason unenforceable, that provision will be deemed severable from these terms and shall not affect the validity and enforceability of any remaining provisions.

12. Hypertext links

No third party is permitted to create a link to this website without our prior written consent.

Some pages on this website may have hyperlinks to other websites which not owned or maintained by us. We will not be liable in any way for the content, availability or use of those websites by you and you use such hyperlinks entirely at your own risk.
